

GREAT FLOOD WHIPPING SHORES OF GULF

Re-elected Socialists Again Ousted

N. Y. ASSEMBLY STANDS BY ACTION TAKEN LAST SPRING

Men Who Were Refused Seats Were Chosen by the People at a Special Election Held Last Week.

ASSEMBLY WAS WILLING TO SEAT TWO OF MEN

But These Two Refused to Hold Seats When Their Three Comrades Were Ousted—One of the Men Served as Captain During War.

Albany, September 21.—Standing by its original action of last spring, when it cast off five socialist assemblymen, on the grounds that they belonged to an organization inimical to the government of the United States, the assembly Tuesday night, by a vote of 90 to 45, expelled the five socialist members—Louis Waldman, and August Claessens, of New York, and Charles Solomon, of Kings county, and voted 87 to 48, to permit Samuel A. Dewitt and Samuel Orr, socialist members from the Bronx, to retain their seats. The two last named, however, after a vote in the assembly, Waldman had been lost, 81 to 52, took the floor in turn and verbally tendered their resignations.

Recently Re-elected.

The five men were re-elected at a special election last week. The five socialist took part in the debate which continued five hours, and each of them declared that he had come to the extraordinary session to serve the people in helping to solve or remedy the housing situation and not to make apologies or defense of the socialist party or because they were socialists. They characterized the proceedings as un-American.

Claessens, one of the five, declared that they had taken their cases to the people, who were their judges and jury, and said "I am proud of this action, and I am proud of the fact that all five would be re-elected, and that other socialists would continue to be elected to the assembly until eventually the party would have a majority of the lower house of the legislature."

In spite of pleas by Speaker Thaddeus Sweet, who originated the ouster movement early in the year, and despite earnest endeavors of Majority Leader Adler, Minority Leader Donahue and Chairman Martin, of the judiciary committee, to prevent this action, the assembly took the bit in its teeth and bolted completely out of the hands of its organized leaders.

When the result of the vote on the fifth man was announced, Assemblyman Martin McCue moved reconsideration of the vote by which Waldman was expelled. He evaded his opinion that partisan politics had played a great part in the vote, and pleaded that if Orr and Dewitt were entitled to seats, the other three men should also be seated. His motion to reconsider was lost, however, by a vote of 63 to 8.

The attitude of Speaker Sweet on the socialist question was watched throughout the evening session with keen interest. He had been one of the first legislators at Albany to press for the ouster of all socialists from public office. The spring campaign had been largely conceived by him, and was fought through to the finish under his whip.

Soda Founts Feel Pre-School Trade Stimulus of Fall

Tourists Now Filling the Hotel Lobbies Younger and Much More Satisfied Than Blase, Older Type.

BY PAUL WARWICK.

With the air so full of unrest, it would be absolutely catalytic to attempt a published account of the numbers of hearts that have been broken over a foaming beaker of ice-cream soda. National emotional restraint would be eternally wrecked if the introspective nation should suddenly learn statistics about the myriad affairs de coeur which have fashioned themselves from the flutty madness of nut parlors.

That's not out of a clear sky, its appropriate. For Atlanta is passing through the migratory educational season, and soda founts are feeling the stimulus of pre-school trade that augurs an exciting fall season.

The tourists that fill the hotel lobbies and promenade the downtown boulevards are younger, more dashing and much more satisfied than the blase, middle-aged or older type to which Atlanta has accustomed itself. The truth of the business is that every college in the south, east, west or north has either already started, or is getting ready to start, and the concurrent migrations have set in.

Everybody's on his or her way to school, and there are exactly 3,741 get-together sessions every day that swells by. Boarding-school students grab off a dollar in the corner of a foyer and—well, they're off, that's all. The conversational flood is usually opened with a freshet of summer reminiscence, cluttered with wreckage of thoughts on the best house-party and how utterly absurd it is to be away from home. They are hauled in the plans for the future, skipping school and racking up a vacation, and taking whatever cues they can find.

Gov. Cox Poses for "Movies"

He Stands on Bridge of Ship While Girls in Bathing Suits Disport About the Craft.

Los Angeles, September 21.—Governor Cox was on the way to Arizona tonight, after completing his southern California campaign, which included one unscheduled event—the brief appearance of the governor as an "actor" before a motion picture camera.

His private secretary crowded him was unable to keep some of the last-minute engagements made for him by the Los Angeles committee, but he managed to dress two audiences at Long Beach, two at Los Angeles, one at Hollywood and one at San Bernardino before his departure.

He started the day with an address to the Southern California Editorial association, in convention here. He told members of that organization he would speak to them on the subject of "The National Democratic Party."

Then he went to Long Beach and, before an audience which overfilled the municipal auditorium, made an address which was largely a defense of the league of nations and an account of the nomination of Senator Harding as the republican presidential candidate.

COUNTY TAX RATE RAISED BY BOARD FROM .90 TO $1.00

Change Will Give Fulton $191,610 More Revenue for 1920 Than Was Collected for 1919.

BOARD NOW PLANNING TO KEEP OUT OF DEBT

Even With the New Rate, There Will Be Left Less Than $100,000 for New Improvements.

With a new tax rate of $1 on the hundred dollars for 1920, which was fixed by the county commissioners Tuesday afternoon in the place of the former rate of 90 cents, Fulton county will have a total revenue next year of $2,231,457.70, which is an increase of $191,610 over the revenue collected in 1919, but which will give the county only $98,000 for new projects and improvements. At the end of the fiscal year, August 31, 1920, the county faced a deficit of $54,900.

Included in the budget for the new year are $25,000 for Spring street, $125,000 for maintenance of public works department, $650,000 to repay loans, $200,000 for paving Stewart avenue, and various sums for the usual operation of all the county departments.

Estimates Are Made.

When figuring on the amount that the county will need for the year starting September 1, 1920, Henry Wood, clerk of the commission, tabulated the estimated costs of the various departments for the year and the cost of running these departments for the past eleven months. He based his estimate of the amounts required for 1920 on the figures for the past year, which included only the running expenses of the county, and which will be increased by the cost of living expenses of the individual departments. The commissioners declare that they want to put the county out of debt and keep it that way.

Revenue from the tax digest and railroad property will total $1,931,457.70, and from all other sources $299,000.

For the past eleven months ending August 31, the county spent $743,407.73 in the public works department. Eight hundred and seventy thousand dollars, which is the county borrowed the previous year, was also paid back. The county paid $23,000 in cash to the city for various projects and advanced $25,000 to the city for building the fire wall at the Auditorium. Total expenditures for the past year were $2,124,000.

Expenditures for 1920.

The estimated amounts required for fiscal year 1920 as shown by the report follow:

Alms house	$2,000.00

Irish Lord Mayor Enters 40th Day Of Hunger Strike

MacSwiney Reported Very Weak—Not Being Fed, So Far as Government Doctors Know.

London, September 21.—Lord Mayor MacSwiney, of Cork, passed a very restless night at Brixton prison, where he entered the morning of the fortieth day of his hunger strike, according to a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination league. He had some sleep, but it was quite fitful, and he was very weak this morning, the bulletin stated.

When asked the direct question whether MacSwiney was being fed, a home office official said this morning: "Not that we know of, but you must remember his relatives have free access to him."

This is the first time officials have qualified the statement that as far as the government's doctors know, the lord mayor is not receiving nourishment.

The prison physician reported this morning that MacSwiney was considerably weaker than he was yesterday.

Mrs. MacSwiney, who visited her husband this evening, said that his condition was very bad indeed. He was in great pain, and had not spoken all day. He was still conscious, however.

A late bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination league said: "The lord mayor's condition is unchanged. He is still in a very prostrate condition, but conscious."

FORD CUTS PRICES; RAPS PROFITEERS

Pre-War Prices for All Ford Products—War Methods, War Prices and War Greed Must Go, Ford Says.

Detroit, Mich., September 21.—Henry Ford today announced a reduction of prices on all Ford Motor company products to a pre-war level as a step toward "restoration of business to normal conditions."

In a statement accompanying the announcement, Mr. Ford declared that present business conditions demanded that "some practical effort be made to bring economic conditions back to normal."

"There is no wisdom," the manufacturer said, "in trying to maintain an artificial standard of values for inflated prices only retard progress."

"There is a lull in business generally," the statement continues. "People in every walk of life are waiting for prices they know are unnatural, to become lower."

"Manufacturing plants are being shut down all over the country and in every line there is a growing inactivity because the value of consumption is growing less and less through the self-denial of people who realize the injustice of the situation."

"Labor is being thrown out of employment but notwithstanding this, there has been little change in the cost of living."

DETECTIVES FAIL TO SOLVE MYSTERY OF BOMB HORROR

Investigation Pushed for Over Five Days Has Thrown No Light on the Wall Street Tragedy.

CUSTOMS HOUSE FORCE GIVEN A BOMB SCARE

Warned That Building Would Be Destroyed Tuesday, Officials Took Great Precautions, But There Was No Explosion.

New York, September 21.—Department of justice and police officials admitted tonight that investigation has failed to solve the mystery of the explosion in Wall street last Thursday, which cost thirty-five lives and property damage running into the millions.

Officials generally agreed that the explosive was carried into the financial district on a ramshackle wagon on left standing at the curb in front of the assay office just before noon. Hundreds of clues have been obtained as to the identity of the driver and his wares, but many of them are contradictory and officials have begun the long and arduous task of running all of them down and trying to draw correct conclusions therefrom.

No Bomb for Customs House.

Officials of the customs house were told that a bomb was to be exploded at 3 p. m. today, which was received in the mail yesterday by William H. Edwards, collector of internal revenue, brought thousands of the curious to the scene at the appointed hour and level as a step toward "restoration of business to normal conditions."

The bomb threat, however, failed to develop and confirmed the belief of officials at the time it was received that it was a hoax or the work of some letter-writing "crank."

Although both federal and local authorities were alerted to regard as a hoax the post-card received by Collector Edwards, setting 2 o'clock as the hour for the second explosion, they took no chances.

Office workers making their way down the canyon of lower Broadway at this morning, found scores of coast guards entering the custom house, at the foot of Bowling Green. In addition, scores of United States coast guards had been mobilized. They were stationed inside the building, and at the doors. Every one entering the structure was closely questioned.

An epidemic of "stricken illness" and "visits from out-of-town relatives" was particularly noticeable at the custom house.

Shortly after noon all women employees and some men were sent home from the custom house. Two o'clock, the hour when officials had been warned the custom house was to be blown sky-high, passed with nothing more unusual than a crowd which gathered to see the pre-announced "bombing."

Class Still Sought.

Department of justice agents, headed by William J. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation, still contented the explosion was planned and carried into execution by a band of anarchists. Trained investigators are at work on this theory in all parts of the country, but Chief Flynn said tonight he was not yet in a position to make known the result of these investigations.

One Small Priest Saved Negroes From Lynching

Father Thomas Burke Was More Effective Than Squads of Chicago Police.

Chicago, September 21.—One small priest with a smile and the word "sanctuary" on his lips did more than squads of police last night in preventing the threatened lynching of three negroes who took refuge in his church. He is Father Thomas Burke, pastor of St. Gabriel's church in the stockyards neighborhood. The negroes were wanted for the murder of a white man in a street corner argument.

When Father Burke reached the church a mob estimated to number nearly 5,000 was packed about the doors and hundreds more had already entered in the search for the negroes. Forcing his way in the priest shouted: "What is this sacrifice? Who are the rogues that storm the house of God?"

Someone explained, "That makes no difference," he cried. "This place is sanctuary. I order every person in this building to leave immediately and quietly." The crowd broke and fled out. The last man had left when a police riot squad arrived. Taking the police inside Father Burke called to the hidden negroes to come.

There was a stir and one of the men stepped out from a confessional. A pile of cassocks in a robe room yielded a second and the third appeared from behind the altar rail. One knelt and kissed the priest's hand as police spirited them out a side entrance.

With the negroes safely away, Father Burke, smiling, went out to address the mob.

"Go home. Be peaceable and happy. There's too much trouble in the world right now. Don't start more," was his advice.

POLAND BREAKS WITH LITHUANIA

Peace Negotiations Have Been Broken Off—Lithuania Appeals to United States, Alleging Polish Outrages.

Warsaw, September 21.—The peace negotiations between Lithuania and Poland have been broken off, and the Polish delegation has left Kalvaryja and is returning to Warsaw.

Lithuania agreed to withdraw her troops behind the Poch line, but insisted that the Poles retire a similar distance behind the line they now occupy. To this the Poles refused to agree.

The announcement was made Monday that the council of the league of nations had succeeded in getting Poland to agree to an immediate suspension of hostilities pending a settlement of their dispute.

LITHUANIANS ALLEGE OUTRAGES BY POLES.

Washington, September 21.—(United News).—The representatives of the Lithuanian government have appealed to the American state department to use its good offices to prevent repetition of what they charge are excesses of Polish troops. The Poles are in temporary occupation of territory the Lithuanians claim, under the agreement reached before the league of nations.

Copies of a cablegram received from the Lithuanian foreign office recounting details of a Polish program in Selny on September 8, were left at the department. It was charged that Polish troops robbed shops, maltreated the inhabitants, committed excesses in the Jewish synagogue, and violated twenty-two towns within the area to be occupied by the Polish forces, against the terms of the league dictum.

TORCH APPLIED TO IRISH TOWN BY BRITISH POLICE

Two Civilians Were Shot to Death and Several Others Wounded at Balbriggan.

KILLING OF POLICEMAN CAUSED THE TROUBLE

All Public Houses Fired and Also Many Private Homes—Police Used Incendiary Bombs.

Dublin, September 21.—Auxiliary police forces last night wrecked the town of Balbriggan, near here, in retaliation for the shooting of two police officers there earlier in the evening, when District Inspector Burke was killed and his brother, Sergeant Burke, was seriously wounded. Many houses were set on fire and the largest hosiery factory in Ireland, belonging to an English firm, was destroyed.

This morning the town was in terror, and streams of refugees in all sorts of vehicles were abandoning the place for neighboring villages.

Houses Were Fired.

Shortly after midnight uniformed men appeared in the streets, evidently bent on reprisals for the shooting of the police officials. They immediately proceeded to wreck the town. The public houses were entered and set on fire, as well as numerous private homes, whose occupants were given little time to dress before the buildings were burned.

Many of the business houses, including the big hosiery mills of Deedes, Tempier and company, were destroyed.

The town is one of the centers of hosiery manufacture and power loom weaving, whose occupants were given little time to dress before the buildings were burned.

It is reported that the two civilians who were killed, a dairyman and a barber, were dragged from their homes, bayoneted and then shot.

A number of houses belonging to prominent Sinn Feiners were set on fire, and altogether twenty-eight residences are reported to have been burned to the ground. The sacking of the town was carried out by some fifty auxiliary police, known as "black and tans" from their uniforms. Today these police were reported to be declaring they would return tonight to complete the destruction of the town.

Taken From Home and Killed.

One of the acts of the auxiliaries was to seek out men suspected of shooting the Burkes. A barber named Larless, a middle-aged man, the father of a large family, was taken from his home and killed, as was a dairy farmer named Gibbons. The latter, at least, was both bayoneted and shot.

During the night numerous explosions were heard which were attributed to incendiary bombs.

Numerous clashes resulting in deaths and serious injuries continued in various parts of the country. Reports today recorded the shooting of Sergeant McGuire at Farnham, 11.2 miles southeast of Athlone, while making an arrest. McGuire was taken to a hospital in a critical condition.

One Constable Donoghue was wounded from ambush at Newcastle and died. A publican at Ballynagall was fired upon and wounded seriously yesterday, while a constable was wounded at the same time. Two civilians while passing the barracks in Abbeyfeale, county Limerick, failed to halt when challenged. The police fired, wounding both men.

TROPICAL TERROR HEADED IN FORCE FOR NEW ORLEANS

Weather Bureau Official Warns That the Louisiana Metropolis Will Be Directly in Path of Hurricane.

PEOPLE ARE FLEEING FROM ZONE OF DANGER

Thousands Have Left Galveston for the Mainland. All Precautions Against the Storm—Swelling Tides and Dropping Barometers Herald Approach of Terror.

Communities along the gulf coast from the Florida peninsula tip to the Texas lagoons, prepared last night for emergency of storm and flood today, while weather bureau warnings told of a vortex of tropical hurricane dragging its attendant circles of roaring gales slowly toward the mainland. The traffic lanes in the gulf itself were clearing fast as shipmasters, apprised by wireless of the advent of high seas and wind ran for port or shelter.

Swelling tides on the Louisiana and Texas coasts and falling barometers heralded its coming. At Corpus Christi and vicinity, inhabitants remembering the death lists and property havoc created by preceding onslaughts of tropical storms, sought higher ground and safer footing. Dwellings were vacated and store stocks moved at Corpus Christi last night. Even the big steam tankers in the oil trade made way for the hurricane's passage and turned off their courses to harbor in the Mississippi delta.

Headed for Mainland.

The weather bureau predicted the storm's probable contact with the mainland somewhere west of the Mississippi's mouth, and the moment for sometime today. Its warnings were spread east as far as Tampa. Ships at sea sought shelter at Mobile and the smaller ports of the eastern gulf coast, reporting high seas and rising winds as they fled.

The erratic nature of hurricanes, the bureau said, made it always possible that the present disturbance would swerve from the northward course charted for it since its entrance to the gulf Saturday off Texas. Hourly its progress was checked and noted by the instrument readings: the bureau's separated stations, lest some atmospheric freak should speed its northward travel beyond the 12 miles an hour of its noted rate.

This factor of changeability governs the bureau's forecast when the last night it widened the scope of its hurricane warnings, to include territory as far east as Pensacola, and said the varying probabilities might throw the track of the storm center to the eastward, on land near the Gulf coast mouth. But the bureau gave predictions of a wind rising to hurricane velocity and a lifting tide.

NEW ORLEANS TOLD STORM IS COMING IN FULL STRENGTH

New Orleans, September 21.—At midnight the barometer had risen two points from its minimum of 29.55 to 29.55 and the winds had dropped from its maximum velocity of 45 to 34 miles from the south-southeast. The weather bureau stated that this would indicate that the greatest force of the hurricane would be felt on the coast to the east of New Orleans, but that New Orleans was not out of danger.

New Orleans, September 21.—Observer I. M. Kline, of the United States weather bureau, has just notified Superintendent of Police Mooney to warn all people in outlying suburbs that the hurricane will strike New Orleans in full force within three hours. All trains scheduled to leave New Orleans since 9 o'clock tonight have been cancelled. The superintendent of transportation of the Louisville and Nashville reported at 11 o'clock tonight that the water was over the railroad bridge at Bay St. Louis. Riglets and Chief Menteur. A train loaded with golf coast refugees bound for New Orleans was stalled at Chief Menteur and attempts to take passengers over the bridge on motor cars failed. The wind at Bay St. Louis and Chief Menteur was reported to be sixty miles an hour.

New Orleans, September 21.—The tropical disturbance now approaching the Gulf coast had veered slightly to the north at 7 o'clock this evening, and the weather bureau predicted that it would go inland on the Gulf coast further east than at first reported. At 7 o'clock the barometer in New Orleans, registered 29.60 and falling rapidly.

From the Mississippi coast resorts ever since the hurricane was crowded with vacationists seeking safety from the approaching storm.

All of the hotels of the city are filled to overflowing, and refugees are being housed in private homes and other public buildings. Arrivals and signs have been twisted loose and were hurled through the downtown streets. The hurricane, which was reported today, following the warnings of the weather bureau. At Port Eads a large fleet is anchored behind the breakwater and jetties waiting for the storm to blow over. Several vessels which were bound for Port Arthur, also put into Port Eads for refuge.

At 10 o'clock tonight the barometer at the weather bureau registered a drop of 9 points in three hours. The wind velocity here was 30 miles from the north-east. At Burwood, on the coast at 7 o'clock, the barometer stood at 29.62, and the wind from the north-east was blowing at 30 miles. Since that time the weather bureau has been unable to communicate with Burwood.

WILL BE ASKED TODAY
Attorneys Allen and Cooper Will Make Motion at Griffin This Morning.

Hearing of the plea for a new trial for Jack L. Kello, convicted of the murder of Larry Trotter in September 18, and who is still in jail at Griffin, under sentence of death, will take place this morning before Judge W. E. H. Seay, Jr., of the Spalding superior court.

A formal motion will be entered in chambers before Judge Seay, which will probably be amended when the record of the evidence of the case is transcribed. Then the bill of exceptions, which will be taken before the court of the state and argued on its merits, will be presented to the court.

BONDED WAREHOUSES
NEEDED, SAYS JACKSON*Head of the State Bureau of Markets Discusses Value to Farmers.

More than one hundred warehouses have been bonded in Georgia under the United States warehouse act through the co-operation of the federal and state bureaus of markets, and financial authorities are now viewing with disfavor non-bonded warehouses, according to a statement given out Tuesday by the state bureau of markets, in which the success of the movement is declared to be an urgent necessity in financing Georgia crops.

Promotion of a chain of bonded warehouses in Georgia was taken up only a few months ago, and the progress which has been made is considered remarkable, according to L. B. Johnson, director of the state bureau of markets. So rapid has it been that the director predicts that within twelve months non-bonded warehouses will be the exception.

"The Macon cotton warehouse failure recently, wherein it is alleged 4,000 cotton receipts were hypothecated in Georgia banks, for which there was no cotton, has caused financial centers to look with much more disfavor on non-bonded receipts," said Mr. Jackson, "and not only are these authorities demanding bonded receipts, but the farmers and bankers are doing the same."

This bureau urges all warehouses to join the bonded system. We have always thought it the proper thing to do, but since the Macon cotton warehouse failure we think it an urgent necessity to help finance the movement of Georgia crops."

The director also called attention to the service which the farmers of the state are receiving now under the cotton futures act, which requires cotton buyers to report daily to the cotton quotation service in Atlanta the prices paid for cotton in their respective territories. These reports are compiled and once each week a bulletin is issued to every farmer desiring it.

In this manner, it is pointed out, the farmer learns which city is paying the best market price, and is thoroughly informed on all quotations and other valuable data.

GULF STORM WILL NOT BE FELT IN GEORGIA*Disturbances Have Spent Greatest Force and Are Moving Northwestward.

There is but little likelihood that Georgia will be affected by the Gulf coast storm, according to F. von Herrmann, local weather observer, who received bulletins from Washington late Tuesday that indicated that the disturbance spent their greatest force in the middle Gulf section, and were moving northwestward. Latest reports were that the storm was being attended by dangerous winds.

The cotton belt in the extreme western Gulf section reported to Washington much cloudiness, but with the exception of that territory, generally fair weather prevails over the entire cotton belt, and the Atlanta forecast for today is fair. Mr. von Herrmann said that the barometer was steadily falling along the coast.

Dispatches from Galveston showed that the barometer was 30.55 inches at noon, four points before the mark registered at 7 o'clock a. m. and the wind was said to be blowing 32 miles an hour from the northwest. From later dispatches the direction of the wind has entirely changed.

"The tropical storm over the Gulf of Mexico is advancing northwestward toward the west Gulf coast," an announcement by the weather bureau said. "Hurricane winds were ordered raised at 10 o'clock this morning on the western Louisiana coast and on the Texas coast southward to Corpus Christi. All interests have been ordered warned of the dangerous character of the storm."

COLONEL NEVILLE, EXPLOSION VICTIM, IS BURIED AT HOME

Savannah, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—From historic Christ church the funeral of late Col. Charles Neville, who lost his life in the explosion which wrecked a section in Wall street, New York, was conducted here today. Hundreds of friends attending.

Mr. Neville, a prominent Savannah banker, was buried at his home in Bonaventure.

Colonel Neville is survived by his widow; a daughter, Miss Sarah Neville, and a son, Charles Gardner Neville. He was connected with several prominent Savannah families and was 45 years of age.

Acute Coal Situation
Facing Macon Citizens,
Declare Bibb Dealers

Macon, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—With the supply of available coal in Macon yards less than one-third what it usually is at this time of the year, while about 50 per cent of the consumers have laid in their winter's supply, the situation here is said by dealers to be more acute than at any time in the history of the city. That there is little hope of conditions improving is certain, for the interstate commerce commission has virtually placed an embargo on coal shipments to the south because of the necessity of supplying the northwest before cold weather sets in.

Conditions here are said to be similar to those prevailing in other cities of the south. It is estimated that the supply now on hand will not last more than thirty days.

GINNERS ARE WARNED
BY SERIOUS THREATS*Floyd County Citizen Describes the Situation as
"Deplorable."

Rome, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—Warnings of serious threats, continue to be posted on country cotton gins in Floyd county neighboring counties and the country ginner are in doubt as to what to do under the circumstances.

Speaking of the matter today, Capt. W. G. Dunahoo, of Howell's district, this county, said:

"Matters are reaching a very deplorable stage with the country ginner, who have made agreements to gin and have gone to the necessary expense. I found a warning notice on my gin yesterday, telling me to 'look out' if I ginned any cotton before January 1st. A case of gin located in or very near cities where night watchmen are employed, it is different, but where no night watchman is employed and where, after the day's work, the ginner retires for the night, the warnings are causing uneasiness and uncertainty."

"The early drought this year in this section greatly damaged the cotton crop. Then came the boll weevil and now the strong probability of an early frost. If half a crop is made here this year the grower's expectations will be realized. In the face of all this, comes the movement to stop the gins until January."

"With all the adverse crop conditions of the present season and the high price of farm labor and its scarcity, the grower cannot make anything on less than forty cents a pound. It is earnestly hoped by the farmers that those opposing ginning now will at least permit ginning of the crop to be ginned to enable the tenant and other farmers to pay their debts early. We hope that the Eastern manufacturers of cotton goods will not close down to keep the price of their output high. They have been making enormous profit and they should be reasonable and give the grower another chance to make a crop. If they do not, they will bankrupt the southern farmer. The southern mills will have to shut down and send their help to the farms to produce enough cotton for the world's consumption."

SAVANNAH READY FOR BIG INVASION OF ATLANTA STARS

Savannah, Ga., September 21.—Savannah is having a miniature "world's series" all her own—and Atlanta's. Practice began this afternoon on the park extension grounds by the local stars, picked from the winning team and other leading teams of the city league's six teams, for the battles with Atlanta for the state baseball title.

Merchants and baseball fans are backing the series—seven games—to open with three here between the picked team of the city teams and the pick of Atlanta amateur players. One game is to be played Friday and a double-header on Saturday.

DORSEY ATTENDS
BOARD MEETING AT REFORMATORY

Milledgeville, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—The board of trustees of the Georgia Training School for Boys held an important meeting here today. After the morning session the board adjourned and went to a luncheon served at the school, which is located one mile from this city.

Since the reorganization of the reformatory many improvements have been installed, and the institution is fast shaping itself into the line of endeavor for which it was founded. The board of trustees are deeply interested in the welfare of the school and giving it close attention. The administration of Superintendent C. E. Bonner is being commended by all who are acquainted with the school.

Those present the board meeting were Governor John D. Dorsey, Col. Frederick J. Paxson, chairman; Dr. M. L. Brittain and Dr. T. F. Abercrombie, of the state board of health; Mrs. J. E. Hodges, J. L. Herring, J. L. Floyd and Mrs. Orlan Manson, secretary of the board. Governor Dorsey will also visit the state prison farm today to personally examine into the physical condition of several prisoners, who have applied for executive clemency. R. E. Davidson, chairman of the prison commission, is also spending a few days at the prison farm. Governor Dorsey and party leaves for Macon tonight.

BODY OF FLOYD COUNTY SOLDIER
BURIED AT HOME

Rome, Ga., September 21.—The funeral of the first Floyd county soldier to be brought back from France was held Sunday, when the body of Sergeant William Thomas Taylor was laid to rest.

The young man was a non-commissioned officer of company E, seventh infantry, third division, A. E. He lost his life while serving overseas and was buried on French soil. The services were held at 2 p. m. at the Lindsley Baptist church under the auspices of the American Legion.

A Woman Is As Old As She Looks

No woman wants to look old. Many in their effort to look youthful resort to the "beauty doctor." Their mistake is that they visit the wrong department in the drug store.

Beauty depends upon health.

Worry, sleepless nights, headaches, pains, disorders, irregularities and weakness of a distinctly feminine character in a short time bring the dull eye, the "crow's feet," the haggard look, drooping shoulders, and the falling step.

To retain the appearance of youth you must retain health. Instead of lotions, powders and paints, ask your druggist for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This famous medicine strikes at the very root of these enemies of your youthful appearance. It makes you not only look younger, but feel younger. It overcomes the weakness and builds you up.

Your druggist can supply you with liquid or tablets; or send ten one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a trial pkg. of the tablets will be mailed to you. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been in use 50 years.

If you wish to know all about yourself, drop a line to Dr. Pierce for free pamphlet on Diseases of Women. Should you desire to consult his medical staff of physicians or ask for information, the same will be cheerfully furnished you wholly without cost and your letter will be treated as sacredly confidential.

Construction Service which starts with the idea and delivers the finished structure

IN construction the Goethals plan is unique. It covers the entire life of the project from the original conception to delivery of the finished structure, ready to operate. This comprehends engineering, architecture, management of construction and equipment layout.

We begin with the idea, often assisting in the choice of location. We create the designs, plans and specifications. We act as technical agents for the owner, either (a) employing special contractors for each class of work, or (b) organizing a construction force, paid by the owner, and directed by us or (c) by combination of both.

In the case of factories, mills, shops, power plants, harbor developments and terminals, we study the processes, design and build the structures to fit them, lay out and select equipment, and supervise installation.

Goethals, Wells & Co., Inc., works upon a fee, fixed in advance by contract. We shall be glad to be consulted about projects of any size and character from a small factory to large public works.

The parent corporation, George W. Goethals & Co., Inc., is available to undertake the management of a new enterprise, or to reinforce the existing management until it is established and operating effectively. It also makes examinations and reports upon all kinds of industrial and commercial enterprises.

HAVE THE LONG HOT DAYS SAPPED YOUR STRENGTH?

Improper Diet and Hot Weather the Cause of Broken-Down Health.

Ferraline, the Natural Tonic, Restores the Vain and Vigor of Youth and Rebuilds Blood, Bone and Tissue.

You can't rely on patented tonics to restore what nature has lost. Too much iron, especially if calcium and other minerals are not present in right proportions, shocks the system and cannot be absorbed by the body.

No chemicals are added to Ferraline, none are necessary—it comes to you as it comes from nature. In such delicate proportions that the most delicate system can assimilate it.

No one can live long without food, and certain minerals are vital to the body. When they are lacking the body is subject to many diseases, such as stomach disorder, indigestion, kidney trouble, rheumatism and anemia.

If you tire easily, find it hard to concentrate, and are cross or irritable, you need to restore the mineral in your system with Ferraline, the one perfect tonic, that builds up blood, bone and tissue.

You can't find the same minerals in just the right proportion in ordinary patented tonics.

Ferraline is for man to imitate. Nature's own prescription made in Nature's laboratory, will really help you permanently.

Profit by the experience of Mr. Rushlaw, whose letter in part follows: "For several months my general system had been so run down that I felt tired and weary all the time. After taking a bottle of Ferraline this tired feeling has left me, and I have a good appetite, sleep well and have gained a good deal of strength."

Get a bottle from your druggist today for one dollar. You will be so delighted with the results that we do not hesitate to guarantee your complete satisfaction.

A beautiful booklet, "Nature the Great Healer," will tell you how to obtain good health in a natural manner. Write Dept. C-17, Georgia Ferraline Sales Co., State Distributors, Macon, Ga. (adv.)

PLAN IS OFFERED TO RAISE REVENUE

McLendon Writes Letter Presenting Solution of State's Financial Difficulties, Through Temporary Loans.

"Another solution to the state's financial difficulties was offered late Tuesday afternoon in the proposal by Secretary of State S. Guy McLendon in a letter to The Constitution that Governor Hugh M. Dancy call an extraordinary session of the legislature next week to consider an amendment to the constitution giving the chief executive, upon the filing in writing by the comptroller general and treasurer of a statement setting forth that in order to meet the state's financial needs, a temporary loan is necessary, the authority to borrow for a period not extending beyond the fiscal year, such sum as may be recommended by the two officials.

The secretary of state proposes that such loans be paid out of taxes collected during the year they are made, and declares that the amendment can be voted upon in the general election of December 4, should it be published by October 3 in order to meet the sixty-day publication notice.

McLendon's proposal is the second to be offered during the past three days, and he states that should it be brought up in the house, it could be read, voted upon, and if passed, sent to the senate, there passed, and then signed by the governor, all in one day. His proposal is made in a letter to the editor of the Constitution, and is as follows:

"Editor Constitution: There is much talk of an extra session of the legislature. I do not know whether an extra session could be constitutionally convened or not. I do not know what the legislature could do in the way of raising revenue if it should be convened in extraordinary session.

"If the people should confer upon the state the power to borrow in advance of the collection of taxes, promising to pay the sums borrowed out of taxes collected under laws already enacted to meet appropriations, it seems to me that the situation might be much improved. During the session just closed a bill was presented which I had the honor of preparing on this line. This bill provided:

"Upon the filing with the governor, in writing, by the comptroller general and treasurer of a statement setting forth that in order to meet the state's financial needs, a temporary loan is necessary, the authority to borrow for a period not extending beyond the fiscal year, such sum as may be recommended by the comptroller general and treasurer.

For temporary use, such loan or loans to be paid out of taxes collected for that year.

"I recommended that this amendment to the constitution be proposed so that it could be voted on at the November election. If such a change in the borrowing capacity is made, it would be a great relief to the state. That, of course, is a general election. The legislature would be convened in extra session it could, by a single reading in each house, and these readings might be made on the same day, propose an amendment to the constitution which could be submitted for ratification at the election on December 4.

"I submit this suggestion for what it is worth. It is a time to consider such an amendment could be proposed at the December election, there will be an opportunity to submit it to a vote of the people until the November election, 1922. An amendment to be voted on at the election of the peace election December 4 would have to be published by October 3 to meet the requirement of sixty days' publication.

"S. G. MCLENDON, Secretary of State, Atlanta, Ga., September 21, 1920."

DEALERS IN OAKLANDS HERE FOR CONFERENCE

Four States Represented at Convention Held in Atlanta Today.

More than one hundred dealers and salesmen representing the Southern Oakland company in the states of Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Tennessee met in a conference here yesterday.

Assembling early in the day at the home office of the company at 270 Peachtree street, group meetings and conferences were held in which individual sales plans, advertising and business of like nature were discussed.

At 12:30 the activities of the convention were moved over to the Capital City club, where R. H. Martin, general manager of the Southern Oakland company, expressed the appreciation of the company for the large attendance, and invited those present to partake of an elaborate luncheon.

At 2 o'clock the gathering was again convened in the convention hall, and Mr. Martin briefly introduced the principal speaker of the occasion, W. H. Martin, assistant general manager of the Oakland Motor Car company.

Mr. Martin spoke in a general way of the stability of the automobile industry, its positive function in the activities of mankind, and especially of the part the Oakland automobile was performing in meeting the needs of the world for dependable transportation.

N. L. Taylor, of the promotion department of the Oakland Motor Car company, with a talk about "Better Prospects for Business," followed. Mr. Taylor used a series of graphic charts which added much to the convincing power of his arguments. He started with the growth of the automobile industry, telling how in 1913 there were only 3,700 automobiles in this country, and in 1919 there were 1,457,682, and bringing to the fact that the automotive business was the second largest industry in the United States.

He also showed that 90 per cent of all automobiles were used or purchased for business purposes, and that 80 per cent of the total automobile mileage of the country was for the conduct of business.

T. J. Madden, sales manager of the Southern Oakland company, closed the convention with an enthusiastic expression of the confidence of the Oakland dealers and salesmen could and should do in the way of aiding in the development of this organization, assuring them of co-operation to the utmost in their efforts.

NEW CIVIC BODY TO BE ORGANIZED THURSDAY NIGHT

A new civic organization for Atlanta—the Civitan—will be organized Thursday night at a meeting of prominent Atlanta men with Kenneth F. Smith, who has been sent to the city by the International Association of Civitans to explain the body's objects.

The meeting will be held immediately after a dinner at 6 o'clock Thursday evening in the Town room of the Chamber of Commerce building, and is promised as a short, snappy session, which will not last more than an hour. Letters have already been sent to a group of Atlantans who will interest themselves in the organization.

"Civitan," the organization's name, is derived from the Latin "civitas," meaning citizen, and has as its primary object the promotion of good citizenship. Much credit was given to this organization in Birmingham recently for the large increase in that city's registration list.

Mr. Smith has been in conference with about fifty of Atlanta's leading citizens who are interested in the promotion of the organization here, and indications point to the building of a successful body.

Kenyon Slush Committee Wants to Know if Educational Bureau Is Extending Active Aid to Cox.

Washington, September 21.—If any political propaganda has been sent out at government expense to aid either party, the Kenyon committee investigating campaign expenditures wants to know all about it. Senator Kenyon has summoned heads of various bureaus, among them P. P. Claxton, chief of the Bureau of Education, to appear before himself and his colleagues here Thursday, to testify as to the extent government literature and letters bearing on political matters has been employed.

In this connection Senator Reed of Missouri, a democratic member of the committee, points out that while the government printing office this year declined to handle speeches of senators and representatives so that they might circulate their constituents, such a move would be a part of the federal constitution. The committee members have gone ahead and had it done for their own speeches.

On the eve of resumption of the hearings, Chairman Kenyon announced that he wanted to find out "how much of the league of nations propaganda the federal government is paying for."

He said Claxton would be called particularly to explain why in a volume called "School Life," issued by his bureau, there was an editorial complimentary to Governor Cox, the democratic candidate, but not praising his opponent, Senator Harding.

The committee also wants to probe reports that the navy has been issuing recruiting circulars which present a picture of Governor Cox with a quotation from him headed: "Read What Our Next President Will Say."

"Plate" matter lauding the league has been sent out free of charge to small newspapers of the country.

Limit on Contributions. Senator Reed announced that he will introduce a bill as soon as congress reconvenes designed to limit national campaign expenditures to $500,000 for each national committee.

"My bill," he explained, "will limit contributions to $100 per person. I don't believe any vast amount of money is needed to conduct a national campaign. Large campaign funds, through the impact and the weight of money, are a dominating factor in the result of elections."

"Ten or twenty million dollars can be used without its really being used to buy votes. Paid workers understand, even though they are not told, that one part of their job is to go and vote for the man in whose behalf they are employed. The system is corrupting in its very nature."

Reed says he is aware of the assurance of many constitutional authorities; that there is no way of limiting the amount that may be spent for the election of a president, because it is the presidential electors and not the candidate that are the voters cast their ballots. But he says:

"We can clearly regulate money expended to elect members of congress and senators. They are always voted for in presidential years. We may say by statute that where a member of congress or senator is to be elected, no more than a certain amount of money may be spent. That gives us a peg on which to hang the limitation in presidential campaigns."

Much credit was given to this organization in Birmingham recently for the large increase in that city's registration list. ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS PRESSING COLBY

To Issue Statement Showing He Has Received Certification of Second Vote of Tennessee House Against Suffrage.

Washington, September 21.—Having refused to rescind his action in proclaiming the suffrage amendment a part of the federal constitution, Secretary Colby had under consideration tonight the request of a delegation of Tennessee anti-suffragists that he issue a statement showing that certification of the second vote of the Tennessee house against the amendment had been received by the state department.

The Tennessee delegation, headed by Speaker Seth Walker, of the house, and including Representatives Frank Hall, Robert Beaton and Percy Sharp and Frank Stahlman, of Nashville, called upon Secretary Colby late today and, according to its members, renewed their request, first made at a conference with Mr. Colby yesterday. The secretary, members of the delegation said, told them today that he would refer their request to his solicitor and would announce tomorrow what action he would take.

Statement Issued by Anti. Members of the delegation in a statement issued tonight said they had not requested Mr. Colby to rescind the suffrage amendment proclamation on the basis of Tennessee ratification, but admitted precedents for such an action had been referred to. The announcement made at the state department regarding yesterday's conference said that Secretary Colby had refused to recognize the second vote on suffrage by the Tennessee house, and accordingly rescind his proclamation.

The statement issued tonight by the Tennessee delegation follows: "The delegation came to Washington to request that the secretary of state issue a statement showing the truth of the action taken by the lower house of the Tennessee legislature relative to the nineteenth amendment, because we believed truth always permissible, and because we thought legislatures which were soon to take action on this matter were entitled to know what Tennessee had done or had failed to do. We called upon Secretary Colby yesterday and made this request. It was repeated at another conference today.

The proposed statement in substance was an acknowledgment of his receipt of Governor Robert's certificate of ratification and receipt of a second certificate from the governor, showing that the lower house had reconsidered the action, and by a vote of 47 to 34, with 20 members present and not voting, had rejected the amendment.

"The secretary assured us yesterday that he would gladly issue such a statement at once in order that it might appear in the morning newspapers of today. He took our room number at the hotel, declaring that he would telephone us in the early evening, and that one member of the delegation would be given his written statement. The secretary failed to do as promised, and this resulted in the conference today.

Colby to Announce Today. "When the proposed statement, in writing, was presented to him today for signature, he said he knew of no reason why he should not sign it, but would refer it to his solicitor and would announce to-orrow what action he would take. "Secretary Colby was not requested to rescind his action in proclaiming ratification on the basis of favorable action by the Tennessee legislature, as he was reported to have declared today, although it was suggested that precedents had been established for such action, a reference to which was left with him at his request. Neither was it suggested that the secretary issue a new proclamation based on ratification by Congress, although mention was made of an article to this effect attributed to former President Taft, and published in newspapers of yesterday."

Secretary Colby said today that the delegation had brought up the question of political exigency in connection with their request. Through Federal District Attorney Lasker, Secretary Colby today filed in the district court of appeals a motion to dismiss the appeal taken by Charles S. Fairchild of the American Constitutional league from the decision of District Justice Bailey refusing an injunction to prevent the proclamation of his suffrage amendment.

Mr. Colby said the object of the proclamation was to prevent that which already had become a fact.

SECOND RATIFICATION BY CONNECTICUT. Hartford, Conn., September 21.—The general assembly of Connecticut this afternoon ratified the nineteenth amendment in accordance with a message of Governor Holcomb to the second special session in a week. The vote in the senate was 25 to 9. The vote in the house was almost unanimous.

Contract Is Let. Rome, Ga., September 20.—(Special.)—The contract for building the road from Lindale to the Polk county line, known as the Cedartown road, was let today by the county board of roads and revenue to J. W. Sapp, of Birmingham, Ala., at a cost of $17,150. Of this amount the state highway commission will pay $14,000, and the county will pay $3,150. The road, which is about seven miles in length, will be built of soil, with gravel top, and, according to the contractor, will be one of which the county will be proud.

Don't You Get Tired of Grinding Valves?

OF what value is a motor that is forever in the repair shop? forever accumulating carbon? forever developing engine trouble? forever an invalid in need of a doctor?

The Willys-Knight motor, with its sleeve-valve principle, has no valves to grind, and long use serves only to seal up its compression and re-vitalize its power.

The life of an ordinary motor is simply a period of intermittent convalescence. The life of a Willys-Knight is one long unbroken span of robust, reinvigorated performance.

A Great One-Day Sale for Wednesday

Radiant Fall Silks at Very Low Prices Are a Feature of Today's Sale

It Is a Certainty That You Cannot Purchase Such Quality Elsewhere for Anything Like the Prices
We Are Asking.

These Silks represent the acme, the very pinnacle, of the weaver's art. They come from America's finest looms, in colors that rival the rainbow and in designs that were dreamed of by a mind which must have seen much beauty to have conceived them. From the Orient, too, silks come to us in profusion; several of the numbers offered are imported. For every possible costume need or desire, for the woman who seeks inspiration, our silk section satisfies all demands. These offerings cannot be duplicated anywhere in the matter of quality and lowness of price combined. There are Charmeuse numbers, Crepe de Chine, Crepe Metiers, Ponces (imported), Monte Carlo Satin, Fall Sport Silks, Taffetas, Georgettes, all at reduced prices, and what! We believe that people who buy silks at the present prices will have reason to be thankful in the days to come, and not so many days ago.

For instance, we offer DUCHESSE SATIN in the best quality shown in Atlanta in Black, Navy, Plum, Henna, Pink, Light Blue, Nile, Rose, Apricot, White, Myrtle, Copen, Taupe, Scarlet, Malze and other shades. This is 36 inches in width and a regular $5.00 value. Today you may purchase DUCHESSE SATIN per yard $3.95. And SATIN FRAYE, the most delightful soft, lustrous fabric there is. In all the evening shades and street shades, too. This is very special for $4.75 a yard. Crepe de Chine Shirting is greatly in demand and we have a large assortment, 32 inches wide and a regular $2.50 to $4.50 value, for $2.25 a yard. Satin Charmeuse in all the street shades. The $5.00 quality is $3.35 and the $7.50 quality is $5.00 a yard. Self-colored Embroidered Chiffon, tinsel brocades and brocaded charmeuse. Formerly priced from $7.50 to $10.00 a yard, these fine fabrics have been reduced for today to $3.75 to $5.00 a yard. This half-price offering affords many unusual values. Crepe de Chine, a wonderful quality in all the most adorable colors and shades 40 inches wide and of splendid heavy quality. These are reduced to $2.75 and $4.00 values, are priced for today at $1.98 a yard. Silk Tricotettes in Henna, Navy, Plum, Henna, Nile, Rose, Apricot, White, Myrtle, Copen, Taupe, Scarlet, Malze and other shades, are reduced from $4.00 to $2.95 a yard. Plain Georgette, fifty shades, covering the color card for fall are reduced from $2.50 and $4.00 a yard to $1.50 a yard. Duvetyne in all desirable shades, the fabric of the season, 38 and 40 inches in width, is reduced from $10.50 to $7.50 a yard. Navy Tricotette of the very best quality, just received, is $12.50 a yard. Thirty-two inch white Shaposhin Silk for numerous practical purposes, is priced $12.50 a yard. This is the best $2.50 and $3.00 value. Chiffon, Velvets, and other fabrics in all the most desirable shades and colors are reduced from $10.00 a yard to $7.50. In other grades we have a splendid assortment of Chiffon, Velvets in very conceivable shades and colors for fall. These are priced from $9.95 to $15.00 a yard, and we do not believe you will be able to find their equal at the price anywhere in the South.

The South's Great Retail Institution

Offerings in this One-Day Sale are unusual for several reasons. In the first place practically all the merchandise reduced for this one day's selling will revert to normal prices at the close of today's business.

In the second place, the merchandise offered for this sale comes from our regular stock. No special purchases of any sort are included. No jobs or cancellations or, in the term of the merchant, "pick-ups." Every item is the same identical merchandise you purchase here the year round at regular prices.

Lastly, we are not offering selections, but where an item is included, every bit of that item is reduced. So that this event, like all other sale events held by the SOUTH'S GREAT RETAIL INSTITUTION, is in every way a benefit to the community, offering the very highest class merchandise at the lowest possible price. Every item offered is reasonable, desirable and in demand right now.

As in former sales, each transaction today must be considered final, except that this Institution guarantees every item sold to be exactly as represented as to value and worth, condition and newness.

Out-of-town patrons who live near enough to the city to come in today will find the trip greatly to their advantage and will find the facilities of the Store sufficient to take care of them comfortably for the day. Our Tea Room serves the most delicious meals; you will find several rest rooms in the building with maid in attendance. Mothers with children will find the Woman's Club Kindergarten Play Room a splendid place to leave small children. This play room is located in the Arcade and competent people are in attendance. Taken all in all, we believe this GREAT ONE-DAY SALE to be one of the most unusual and important events announced this season.

FIGHT ON LEAGUE OVER, SAYS WHITE

Prevention of One War and Stopping of Another Hailed by Democrats as Good Omen.

BY FRED S. FERGUSON, United News Staff Correspondent. New York, September 21.—The campaign fight has advanced rapidly during the past 24 hours toward the point where President Wilson may soon be expected to give vigorous aid to Governor Cox in his defense of the league of nations. In the opinion of democrats close to headquarters, action of the league council in Paris Monday in preventing war between Finland and Sweden, and in giving Poland and Lithuania together for arbitration, the speech of Senator Johnson in Marion Monday, Senator Johnson's speech in Sacramento Tuesday, and statements in New York by Democratic National chairman White and William G. McAdoo served to bring the league issue in sharper relief in the campaign than at any time since the two national conventions. United News dispatches from Washington during the past few days have told of President Wilson's continued interest in the league, and his desire to aid Cox in the campaign, and the situation is now regarded as rapidly shaping itself to the point of calling forth action from the white house. Against the pro-league stand of the democrats, Senator Harding and other republican speakers have steadily become stronger in their denunciation of the league. Following Harding's characterization of the league as a "stupendous fraud," in a speech at Sacramento, Tuesday declared: "Mr. Harding, happily for himself and for America, has scrapped the league. Mr. Cox says if he is successful he will go in. Our candidate says he will stay out." In the meantime Chairman White issued a statement declaring that "on the very day that the league of nations prevented one war and ended another one, Senator Harding told some porch-sitters that the league is a 'stupendous fraud.' But the honeymoon of misrepresentation against the league is now about over," White continued. "This sickening smash of the truth against a falsehood yesterday is the beginning of a series of such collisions, which will end in the election of the candidates who support the league." Great Moral Influence. McAdoo issued a statement in which he also pointed out the significance of the league action in Paris. "It should be emphasized," McAdoo's statement declared, "that these two wars which the league has just prevented through peaceful methods of arbitration and inquiry have been accomplished notwithstanding the fact that the United States has not yet joined the league. With the moral influence and the active support of the United States as a member of the league, the prevention of wars through peaceful methods of arbitration and inquiry will be made even more certain than now." It was learned in Washington that the president was somewhat disappointed at the measure of success met by the league issue in the action of the council in Paris yesterday is the first concrete thing they have had to point to. In so far as argument goes, they believe the league is "argued out," but the support which they feel they have now received from the cases of Poland, Lithuania, Finland and Sweden were handled has put new ammunition in the democratic guns.

DESCHANEL RESIGNS AS FRENCH PRESIDENT

Paris, September 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The resignation of Paul Deschanel as president of France, which he handed to Premier Millerand at Rambouillet last week, was read simultaneously in the senate and chamber of deputies while those bodies were in session. "My state of health," wrote M. Deschanel in his letter, "no longer permits me to assume the high functions which your confidence has placed upon me. On the occasion of the national assembly on January 17, last, the obligation imposed upon me to take a complete rest makes it my duty to no longer lay my hand to the reins of the government. I have been compelled to reach it. It is infinitely painful, and it is with profound regret that I resign the noble post of which you deemed me worthy." Re-elected French constitution which will give greater stability to the government and enlarge the electoral college, which chooses the president of the republic, will be attempted by Premier Millerand when he takes office as president, according to newspapers here. He would have to include not only members of the two houses of parliament, but delegates from local bodies and from great corporations.

RE-ELECTED SOCIALIST AGAIN OUSTED

had brought about their expulsion, was greeted by the socialists as a reversal of attitude. To the surprise of many, however, the speaker recorded himself on the roll call as against seating one of the expelled members.

Debate on Report.

The debate on the report of the judiciary committee, which had thrown the question back to the assembly for action, began late in the afternoon, when Assemblyman Cuvillier introduced three amendments which called for the ousting of Claessens, Solomon and Waldman. Later in the debate, after all five socialists had spoken in their own behalf, Assemblyman F. A. Wells, of Brooklyn, introduced two more resolutions, calling for the expulsion of Dewitt and Orr.

A change in sentiment among members of the house became apparent Tuesday morning when it was hinted by various groups that, regardless of expediency, they were going to vote consistently—in other words, to stand back of their action of last March. The leaders' plans to seat all five of the assemblymen were thus disrupted, and a compromise—the three-and-two split—was adopted.

The worst verbal beating received by the five men came from Assemblyman McCue, who said that in their remarks to the house the socialists had given nothing but defiance to the assembly, and that they had made not a single defense of any of the charges leveled against them last spring. He declared they had been disloyal to their oath of allegiance and oath of office, and that they had "no more right in the assembly than he had in the councils of the socialist party."

Louis Marten, chairman of the judiciary committee, declared that the only course open to the assembly was to seat the men, and that while he did not believe the socialist members had experienced any change of heart since March, the only legal course to pursue was to permit them to retain their membership.

Dewitt Cites His War Record. Assemblyman Dewitt, in the course of his remarks, declared he did not like to be "whitewashed," and that if the assembly felt that Solomon, Waldman and Claessens were guilty of treason, then he, too, was guilty of treason. He rectified his record in the war—telling of having served as captain for nine months in the chemical service, and of selling Liberty bonds for the cause.

"You did not give us these seats," he warned the assembly, "and you have no right to take them away." Louis Cuvillier, who was most prominent in the previous trial of the five men, surprised his friends by voting for the seating of Orr and Dewitt. He made no public statement of his reasons for the change, but was privately told that a man with Dewitt's record was entitled to the seat.

There was little demonstration when the vote was announced. Except for a little scattered applause the chamber was silent.

Left to Burst of Applause. But at the announcement of the action on Orr and Dewitt, these two arose and announced their resignations. The five men under fire then rose from their seats and left the floor of the house, to a burst of applause from a large gathering of socialists who had watched the proceedings.

The action by the assembly is final. It bars the men from taking their seats during the session and there is no appeal, the assembly being, according to the interpretation of the judiciary committee, judge of its own membership.

When the vote was recorded on the three who were expelled, the speaker merely declared their membership ended and the seats vacant. He made no announcement when Orr and Dewitt resigned. Their action automatically vacated the seats.

STEPS TO LESSEN LIQUOR TRAFFIC URGED BY JUDGE

After hearing testimony in a highway robbery case Tuesday, during which O. Brantley, of 615 Whitehall street, declared he was knocked unconscious and robbed in an automobile beyond West View yesterday, Judge T. O. Hatcock, of the municipal court, commented upon the increasing number of crimes made up of highway robberies, and urged that steps be immediately taken to decrease the liquor traffic now flourishing in the city. Ezio Rosenberg, a young Atlanta man, was held under a $2,000 bond, charged with highway robbery, by Judge Hatcock, while J. A. Ray, who is said to have driven the robbery car, is scheduled for a preliminary examination today. He is now at liberty on $1,000 bond. Rosenberg, in making his statement, said Brantley and Ray engaged in a fight and that both had been drinking. He denied the robbery and said that the reason he had Brantley's watch in his possession when arrested was because he picked it up at the side of the road following the fight. Judge Hatcock made his comment upon the flourishing condition of the liquor traffic following this testimony.

CENTRAL TO SPEND $8,000 TO ASSIST RAISERS OF STOCK

The agricultural department of the Central Georgia railroad, believing that the solution of the pasture problem will be of incalculable benefit to Georgia stock raisers, plans to spend $8,000 for the promotion of better pasture lands in the interest of the eighty counties in which it serves. The total amount in each county is not to exceed $100.

"This is not a donation or a gift, but an investment, the purpose of which is to hasten the bringing about of conditions which will mean greater prosperity agriculturally for the counties in which the work is conducted and eventually the railroad that serves those counties," says the statement.

In value of live stock products Georgia now ranks twentieth of the forty-eight states and with the proper co-operation of the cattle raisers there is no reason why it cannot be brought nearer the top of the list.

WILLIS AND M'ADOO TO MEET IN DEBATE

Chicago, September 21.—Frank B. Willis, republican nominee for senator from Ohio, and William G. Mc-

Adoo, former secretary of the treasury, are each scheduled to make political speeches before the Political Equality League of Chicago at a meeting here October 2. McAdoo will interpret democratic issues and Willis will answer him. Mrs. Medall McCormick, member of the national republican committee, will preside over the republican section of the meeting.

Plans to Entertain Drainage Congress Are Now Being Made

Plans for the entertainment of the annual convention of the National Drainage congress, which is to be held in Atlanta on November 10, 11 and 12, are well under way, it was announced by Judge West Morris, chairman of the entertainment committee, following a meeting of the committee held at 10 o'clock yesterday morning in the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce assembly hall.

Other members of the entertainment committee are H. L. English, C. E. Robertson, B. M. Davis, Dave Webb, S. Guyt McLendon and F. H. Abbott.

The next meeting of the committee will consist of a conference to be held at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon between members of the committee and Governor Dorsey and the "Advertise Georgia" campaign committee. The meeting will be held at the state capitol.

CAPITOL GOSSIP

No Power Company Decision. With the Columbus Power company hearing occupying both sessions Tuesday, and being continued until Wednesday, the railroad commission did not hand down a decision last night in the Georgia Railroad and Power company case hearing on which was completed Monday morning after several hearings.

It is predicted upon what seems reliable authority, that the commission's decision in the Georgia Railroad and Power company case will be rendered upon the conclusion of the company's hearing for an increase in rates.

Through typographical error in Tuesday's Constitution the wrong counsel for the Georgia Railway and Power company was published. Preston Arkwright, president of the concern, Walter T. Colquitt, Luther Z. Rooser and J. Prince Webster have represented the company in all the hearings.

Inheritance Tax Increased. State Tax Commissioner H. J. Fullbright announced Tuesday an increase of $1,607 in the state inheritance tax from the estate of A. V. Gude, Atlanta contractor, which was appealed as a result of the original appraisal sustained by Judge Thomas J. Jeffries. The original appraisal of the estate was $285,930, and Commissioner Fullbright insisted in his appeal to the ordinary's court that the property should be appraised at full value. It was appraised at $496,565, the inheritance tax being $1,345 of $1,607 more than the original amount had not the returns been protested.

State-Wide Fund Campaign. Plans to promote a state-wide campaign for funds for the national democratic campaign committee are being completed by Charles J. Haden, director of the drive in Georgia, and he is now preparing a list of chairmen for every county in order that everyone may be given an opportunity to subscribe. Headquarters have been opened at 516-517 Grant building in this city and contributions from any part of Georgia will be received here until the various county chairmen have been appointed.

Increase Capital Stock. A petition to increase its capital stock from $200,000 to $250,000 was filed Tuesday afternoon by the Columbus Savings Bank and Trust company with the secretary of state, through Frank U. Garrard of Columbus, as its attorney. The $50,000 additional capital stock has already been paid in, according to the petition, meeting the requirements of the state banking laws. The savings and trust company is headed by G. Cunly Jordan, and has a number of prominent Columbus citizens as its directors.

WILSON ATTACKED AS FALSE TO CHINA

Harding Alleges President Broke Faith With China and Delivered Shantung to Japan.

Marion, Ohio, September 21.—Developing his attack on the peace treaty from another quarter, Senator Harding charged in a front porch speech today that President Wilson's peace commissioners at Versailles broke faith with China "through contract secretly made" when they consented to the award of Shantung province to Japan.

China, the republican nominee said, put her interests in the hands of the Americans, but found that "instead of being awarded the freedom of her own people, under the gospel of self-determination for which America spoke several millions of her people were delivered over to a rival nation with the consent and approval of those who spoke for America at Paris."

In his speech, delivered to a delegation representing the Loyal Order of the Golden Heart, the senator assailed the league covenant and declared the United States never would enter an international concord at the expense of its independence. He reiterated, however, that he stood for the applied conscience of nations rather than military force.

At another front porch meeting earlier in the afternoon the candidate shared the limelight with Lillian Russell, the actress, who made a speech to several scores of Marion women telling them why their first votes should be cast for the republican ticket. She said American women must not be deceived by the alluring qualities of the league of nations, but should vote "if it they wanted to protect their homes and their sons."

Harding Replies to Roosevelt. Tonight "Senator Harding replied to the telegrams of Franklin D. Roosevelt, who wired saying he had misquoted by the senator in regard to American participation in the affairs of Hayti. Senator Harding" telegram follows:

"Your telegram stating that I quoted in a speech on September 1, a statement which you had already publicly denied, is received. I am not at all sure I had not seen and have not yet seen such denial, but I accept your statement in good faith and express regret that I should have quoted you. I am sincerely sorry for any implied misrepresentation of you or any other candidate, even though the error was wholly unintentional.

"This does not in any way abate my opinion of the policy of our administration in dealing with Hayti. I am not at all sure I do want to express regret for the quotation of a statement you disavow. Because I am devoted to truth and courtesy I am asking the news association and newspaper correspondents to carry this telegram as conspicuously as they did the quotation."

At the front porch meeting addressed by Lillian Russell, who now is Mrs. Alexander P. Moore, of Pittsburgh, Senator Harding made out a strong talk of the league of nations, and praising her interest in politics. Mr. Moore also was present and made a national speech predicting that Pennsylvania would give Harding and Coolidge a majority of a million.

W. J. James, of Illinois, national representative of the United Mine Workers of Illinois, today discussed labor and political conditions with Senator Harding, republican presidential candidate. After the conference Mr. James issued a statement in which he said:

"Being a republican I am for the republican party and the Harding-Coolidge ticket. I find that miners who are republicans are going to support Harding and those who are democrats will support Cox. President Compton's effort to deliver the labor vote to the democratic ticket will fail just as it always has failed."

Nashville, Tenn., September 21.—J. J. Hughes and A. C. Howard, two of the five men arrested by Nashville police last night on the charge of attempting to bring dynamite into Nashville for the purpose of destroying property of the Nashville Railway and Light company, whose union employees have been on strike the past month, have confessed, the police say, to wrecking a street car on a suburban line on the night of September 11.

G. T. Morris, Will Thomas and Ralph Poole, like Hughes and Howard, former employees of the company, have also been taken into custody. The car occupied only by the mortician and conductor, was wrecked near midnight several miles from the city as a result of a rail being torn up. While the carmen were gone so telephone company officials regarding the mishap, the car was set on fire, supposedly by men in hiding and rendered completely lost. According to the confessions the tools for tearing up a section of the track were secured by the party at a tool use on the way to the scene.

The same night that the car was wrecked, a young woman passenger on another suburban line, Miss Agnes Watson, aged 16, of Allsions, visiting relatives in the county, was killed by a bullet in the heart, on the darkness in connection with today's developments, the police are renewing their efforts to clear up this tragedy. Rewards aggregating $2,500 have been offered by the state, the street railway company and citizens for the apprehension and conviction of her slayers.

"ADVERTISE GEORGIA" MEETING AT MACON

Macon, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—The Macon Chamber of Commerce, co-operating with the Macon Rotary club and the Macon Kiwanis club, has completed all arrangements for the meeting at the city hall auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock, when Governor Hugh M. Dorsey will address 1,000 representatives of the sixth congressional district in the interest of the "Advertise Georgia" enterprise. There will be 100 representatives from the eleven counties of the district outside of Bibb county, and 300 from Bibb county. The meeting is one of twelve being held throughout the state, one in each congressional district, each of which is being addressed by the governor.

As an added feature to the local affair, arrangements have been made to entertain the visitors at a barbecue at Central City park immediately following the meeting at the auditorium. Tickets will be distributed free to the visitors as they register at the city hall.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT, ASSERTS WALKER

Thomas Hardwick Will Make First Address in Second Primary at Cartersville Thursday.

The first political gun in the second primary campaign will be fired at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at Cartersville, when Thomas W. Hardwick delivers the first of the ten speeches he expects to make during the race for the governorship against Clifford W. Walker, who will remain at his headquarters Albany, N. Y., September 21.—ers throughout the state.

Mr. Walker issued only a very short statement Tuesday night, having been in a number of conferences all day with his supporters from all sections of the state. "The prospects of my campaign being successful are growing brighter each day," he said, and I deeply appreciate the interest my friends are showing by calling at headquarters, making contributions to my campaign fund, and actively conducting my campaign in practically every county in the state."

When asked if he had decided on his speaking dates, Mr. Walker replied that he was planning to make only one or two addresses a week between now and October 6, and he had not yet completed his schedule, his campaign manager, Jim Dooler, still being out of the city.

The remaining speaking dates of Mr. Hardwick with the dates of his joint appearances with Thomas E. Watson, who will speak in his interest, will be announced in the latter part of this week, according to a statement given out by his headquarters.

GERARD SUPPLANTS TREASURER MARSH

Failure of Cox's Campaign Manager to "Get Money" Causes Change.

Washington, September 21.—Except in title, James W. Gerard has supplanted Willard Marsh, of Iowa, as treasurer of the democratic national committee.

And, as a result, it is the hope of the party leaders that Marsh's failure to "get the money" during the campaign thus far will be repaired by Gerard's work in the six weeks remaining before election day.

Gerard's quiet displacing of Marsh is obviously to remedy one of the greatest weaknesses in the direct end of the Cox campaign, namely, the absence of co-operation between former administration leaders in the east and the elements which were instrumental in nominating Cox at San Francisco.

was unfortunate for Cox that Marsh, who, in his efforts to nominate Cox and defeat W. G. McAdoo, won the enmity of McAdoo's friends, who happen, in past campaigns, to have been the foremost contributors.

After the Frisco convention Marsh found himself in the position of holding out the hat to those he had estranged. There was a notable absence of clinking dollars in the hat when he left their offices.

There still is such a lack of democratic money as to greatly disturb the nerves of the national committee, but the president and Cox's friends are working together now to improve the situation.

Word is coming in from all parts of the west where Cox has been that his personal efforts to win votes are receiving a discouraging lack of support from organization work needed in the east to back up his plays. With only six weeks before election day, and with definite measures necessary to put drive and finish into these last weeks, lack of money has made all planning uncertain. Even President Wilson himself has not yet been told finally how much he can do in the way of producing work in behalf of the league, until it is better known how much money will be available.

It is estimated that if the closing weeks are to be effective, Gerard will have to mobilize around $1,200,000. His selection for the financial post is timely, in that he is a friend of all the different elements of the party, from Bryan to Tammany Hall.

Dixon Makes Stirring Address To Atlanta Chapter U. D. C.

More than two hundred members of the Atlanta chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy gathered upon the Ansley roof Tuesday afternoon to hear an address by Thomas Dixon, novelist and playwright, on Robert E. Lee. During the meeting Mr. Dixon was made an honorary member of the chapter.

The speaker opened with a statement that he brought his play, "Robert E. Lee," to Atlanta for its premiere because Atlanta is the most typical of the cities of the new south. He went on to substantiate this claim by the statement that "its progressiveness is like the cities of the west, its great financial resources and wealth are similar to the commercial centers of the north, and yet beneath all else lies its real motive power and cause of its success, the splendid spirit of the south."

Briefly Mr. Dixon explained the message which he attempts to deliver through his play as being the revelation of Lee's character as the greatest heritage of the south, greater than all of her gold and silver. He then outlined that portion of the great southern leader's life which is portrayed in his play, with vivid descriptive color.

Briggs-DuBose Wedding

Quiet Event of Saturday

The marriage of Miss Emma Briggs and Mr. Samuel DuBose will be a quiet event of Saturday at noon, taking place at the First Presbyterian church.

The only attendant will be Mr. Hugh Bell, who will be his cousin's best man. Dr. J. Spore Lyon, pastor of the church, will perform the ceremony, and there will be present only the immediate families of bride and groom.

Mrs. Wilson Honored

Mrs. Bryan Wells Collier entertained at a reception yesterday afternoon at her home in College Park, in compliment to Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, president general of the Confederate Southern Memorial association, who will preside over the annual C. S. M. A. conference, which will be held during the Confederate reunion in Houston, Texas.

The house was decorated with a profusion of fall flowers, and the table in the dining room was covered with a tall silver vase, filled with pink roses, graced the center. Unshaded pink candles, in the candlesticks, encircled the central decoration, and the other appointments were in pink.

Several musical selections from the members of Cox college was a feature of the entertainment of the afternoon.

Mrs. Collier was gown in cream-colored brocade. Mrs. Wilson wore pink satin. Mrs. Joseph Morgan was gown in black Chantilly lace, over black satin.

The guests included the members of the Robert E. Lee chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the student body and faculty of Cox college.

Miss Marjorie Olds, gown in pink organdy, and Miss Eloise Olds, gown in blue organdy, served punch on the lawn.

Mrs. Collier was assisted in receiving her guests by Mrs. Joseph H. Morgan, president of the Atlanta Woman's Pioneer society, and the first graduate of Cox college following the civil war, having received her diploma in 1865, and also founder of the Ladies' Memorial association; Mrs. William A. Wright, president of the Atlanta Woman's club; Mrs. Lollie Belle Wylie, president of the Atlanta Writers' club; Mrs. William Fort Williams, vice president; Miss Wille Fort Williams, president of the Junior Memorial association, and Mrs. Charles F. Rice, prominent in U. D. C. work.

Assisting in entertaining were: Mrs. Victor R. Masters, Mrs. W. W. Ward, Miss Dorothy Jones and Mrs. Eulalia Crouch.

Bridge Club

Mrs. Charles A. Moyer entertained her bridge club at its last meeting in her apartment on Highland avenue. The game was played in the living room, where quantities of autumn flowers were used.

The prizes were won by Mrs. W. D. Thurmond and Mrs. Robert Shope. The guests included: Mrs. H. B. Green, Mrs. J. B. Goodwin, Mrs. W. D. Thurmond, Mrs. Robert Shope, Mrs. J. R. Childs, Mrs. M. O. Nix and Mrs. Ruth.

State President W. C. T. U.

WOMEN WILL URGE COUNCIL TO ERECT MARKET BUILDING

A petition being prepared by Mrs. Norman Sharp, chairman of the Atlanta Women's club, requesting the mayor and "general council to appropriate money for the construction of a market building to replace the present curb market will be signed by approximately 30,000 Atlanta women, according to estimates made.

The great success of the curb market has proved conclusively, say officers of the Women's club, that Atlanta is in need of a permanent market, and that the construction of a building for the accommodation of the city to make. The curb market has not only been a benefit to Atlanta housewives, but it has also aided the farmers of Fulton, De Kalb, Cobb, Campbell and other adjoining counties in the marketing of their produce.

Mrs. William Moore has been named chairman of the petition committee, and will have a group of representative Atlanta women to co-operate with her.

Plan of Lincoln To End Civil War Upheld by Dixon

Gives Authorities for the Blair-Lee-Rives Incident,
Suggesting Secret Offer of Dictatorship of South to Lee.

That General Robert E. Lee was offered the dictatorship of the south, and the opportunity to lead the blind armies of the north and south against Maximilian in Mexico, thus giving to Dixie an honorable peace, as brought out in his latest play, now being offered at the Atlanta theater, was upheld yesterday by Thomas Dixon, the author, in an interview given to a Constellation reporter, in which he cited the historical authorities on which based this little known incident of the war of the sixties.

When Mr. Dixon was told that many persons in the first night audience were inclined to doubt the authenticity of the facts brought out in the first scene of the fourth act, which suggested the secret offer of dictatorship, made to Lee following a secret session of the confederate congress, after the receipt of an offer from the federal government, he exclaimed, "Good, just what I had hoped for."

Dixon's explanation, "Mr. Blair," he said, "was sent unofficially by Lincoln to Richmond with the mission of persuading President Davis to dissolve the Confederacy, re-enter the union and join in the prosecution of a war against Maximilian in Mexico. Laying out the expedition, but the United States congress knew nothing formally regarding this move on the part of Lincoln. However, this was Blair's second visit on the same errand, the first having taken place on January 11, 1864.

"Davis would not listen to the proposal which placed the south in a position of 'knuckling.' It was this episode which precipitated the famous secret session of the Confederate legislature." Here Mr. Dixon rose to his full height of more than six feet, and his words snapped as the spirit of the old scene thrilled his imagination. "Grant stood menacingly before Richmond—Sherman was advancing upon Atlanta from Chattanooga—Butler was rapidly marching up the James river—and a fourth northern army was sweeping down the valley of Virginia. The Confederacy appeared doomed.

"Behind closed doors and without Davis' knowledge the Confederate assembly determined that the part of wisdom lay in accepting Lincoln's proposal.

"The next day to Lee, 'Colonel Rives, a most able senator, was sent to General Lee on the field of battle to acquaint him with the particulars of Blair's visit to Richmond and Davis' action.

Rives was instructed to insist upon Lee's accepting the dictatorship of the south, taking rank over but not displacing Davis, and following the course outlined by Blair.

"Lee refused upon the grounds that Davis was his commander-in-chief and that such action on his part would be disloyal." Mr. Dixon implied during the interview that the offer of the dictatorship was not conditioned upon Lee's subsequent course of procedure, but that the Mexican campaign was purely subsidiary to the great need of concluding an armistice at that time.

In his characteristic way the author cited his authorities for the events pictured in his play. They were Glendon Wallis, Pollard, General Alexander's "Memory," Thomas Nelson Page's "Life of Lee," General Gordon and others.

With these few words, abruptly he ceased speaking of these moot questions and branched off into his personal feelings during the performance last night.

"Every author who has written novels, and then turns to the drama, includes much of his own dead timber, you know. I have cut eight pages, or the equivalent of forty-five minutes, out of my play since its first rehearsal. That accounts for the slight rustiness of its last night, but the audience sentence too much or too little now. It all gets across to the audience."

When asked whether or not he proposed to take "Robert E. Lee" north, he answered with enthusiasm, "Certainly to create quite a sensation in New York this winter. As soon as the national election is over, I can secure a theater. I shall go straight to New York. By then the cast will be working smoothly and I will not sit nervously upon pins and needles, as I did last night," he concluded with a laugh.

witnesses already have asserted that they saw a sheet of flame of about seventy-five square feet immediately follow the explosion. Peculiar stains on Wall street buildings, which might have been made by fluid flame, were examined by the police.

Tore Chisel from Crucifix.
The county grand jury continued its inquiry, but apparently without results, for its foreman appealed to any witnesses of the explosion or anyone with knowledge of its cause to communicate with him.

Cornelius Forseman, a 15-year-old messenger, testified today before the jury that the force of the blast

Miss Rebecca Epstein, a stenographer who has been summoned to appear before the jury, told Acting District Attorney Talley that she had seen the death wagon bore the black and white flag.

The only description of him she could furnish was that he was of medium height, between 45 and 49, and wore a strongly bearded of a few days' growth. She said he wore brown overalls.

BOMB WARNING FOR NEW BEDFORD.
New Bedford, Mass., September 21. An anonymous warning that bombs outrages involving the city halls in this city and Fall River are planned for Thursday has been received by Mayor J. H. Kay, of Fall River, District Attorney Joseph T. Kenney announced today.

The warning, he said, was contained in a communication which said that simultaneous attacks would be made on the city halls, banks and mills in each city.

Mayor Kay turned the letter over to the Fall River police officials, and Mayor Ashley, of New Bedford, was notified.

The quartet consisted of Clarence Alford, William Beardsley, Perry Booth, the hall was crowded, and it was necessary to reserve extra tables for late-comers. Mr. Dixon was present as the guest of Lewis Haase, manager of the Atlanta theatre, who accompanied him to the part of General Lee in the new Dixon production.

Mr. Dixon launched at once into high praise for the Kiwanis club luncheon Tuesday when Thomas Dixon, author and producer, delivered an inspiring and eloquent address on the south immediately after the quartet rendered a medley of southern ballads and battle hymns, arranged specially for the occasion.

CLUB FEDERATION HIT HARD TUESDAY BY RESIGNATIONS

Following the almost complete disorganization of the City Federation of Women's Clubs as the result of numerous resignations of officers on account of ill health, the servant problem and to other causes, announcement was made yesterday that a meeting of the federation executive board will be held on October 1 at the chamber of commerce, when steps towards filling vacancies in the personnel will be made.

The following officers of the federation offered their resignations Tuesday when the federation met: Mrs. A. P. Giles, president; Mrs. Price Gilbert, first vice president; Mrs. C. B. Wilmer, corresponding secretary, and Miss Cora Brown, recording secretary.

Mrs. Joseph Moody is chairman of a nominating committee, consisting of herself and Mrs. A. McD. Wilson and Mrs. Irving Thomas.

The federation decided Tuesday to entertain the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs with a luncheon when the conference is held. The details are to be worked out by a committee to be appointed by the president to be elected in October.

This possibility of fixing a legal distinction between other new dances and the shimmy was brought about by an order issued Tuesday by Chief of Police James L. Beavers to Policemen Mrs. J. C. Davis and Mrs. W. W. Evans, to notify the managers of the dance halls and other places that from henceforth the "shimmy" was and must forever be barred. This action was taken following complaints made by Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Evans.

TRAINS ARE PASSING UNDER STERN OF SHIP

New Orleans, September 21.—Louisville and Nashville railroad trains at Dunbar, La., tonight were passing under the stern of a 3,000-ton ocean vessel.

The steamship New Orleans, recently launched by the DuPont & Williams Shipbuilding company, and being sent on a trial trip along the route to be taken by vessels when the industrial canal is completed here, went ashore near Dunbar, where the Pearl river separates Louisiana and Mississippi and empties into Mississippi sound.

The tide swung the vessel so that when the water ballast was pumped from her the stern extended over the Pearl river bridge, making it necessary for trains to pass directly under that part of the boat.

Tugs were sent to her relief late today.

IT'S TOASTED

The Burley tobacco leaves have pores, like a sponge. When "it's toasted" their pores are closed, the flavor sealed in, permanently. When you burn Lucky Strike in your pipe or cigarette, you are releasing the original Burley flavor that was sealed in by toasting. Exactly that. Heat seals it in, heat releases it.

You know how a bee seals in the flavor of honey with the thin coating of wax. This coating holds in that delicious honey flavor until it's used.

Just so the toasting process seals in the Burley flavor. This flavor is preserved until you release it by smoking. A wonderful process and a great discovery for smokers.

AMERICA TRAILING MAHOMET IDEALS

Persian Minister at Anti-Alcohol Congress Says Nation 1,300 Years Behind—Cuba Delegate Amazes Hearers.

BY HUDSON HAWLEY,
United News Staff Correspondent.
Washington, September 21.—Opened with prayer by the highly Christian chaplain of the United States senate, and presided over by another Christian minister, the fifteenth international congress against alcoholism, which is now in session here, heard America solemnly congratulated because it had gone back 1,300 years to the principles of Mohammedanism. The speaker, Mirza, Abdul Alik Khan, Sadigh-es-Saltaneh, minister of Persia to the United States, caused a gasp of astonishment and a distinct briding among the good lady delegates from Kansas and points adjacent, and the highly monogamous men delegates when, after complimenting this country on the adoption of the eighteenth amendment, he calmly went on to say in a dulcet foreign accent: "In my country, the religion is that of Mahomet, and by his teachings all the faithful are forbidden to use intoxicating drinks. He fore-saw over 1,300 years ago that a religion and a government cannot be strong if its people indulge themselves in alcohol. He would up, bowed his thanks, and sat down amid what might be called mitigated applause. The Cuban minister, Dr. Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, caused another flutter of surprise when he solemnly declared that Cuba had no alcohol problem. "I wish to assure you that Cuba does not stand for alcoholism," he said earnestly. "We have been misrepresented in the newspaper. We stand for liberty and for progress, just as you do. You did a great work in the war to free Cuba, and in the late war, and the war you are now carrying on is also a great war." A third foreign envoy to be heard from, and much more noncommittal than the others, was Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador. Geddes Noncommittal. He assured the delegates, of whom the majority are Americans, that "the whole British Empire watches with keen interest the great experiment which the United States is conducting in the power to control. It is watching to see what the results of this change in your social life will be. In fact, it is one of the most interesting social phenomena for the representative of any government to report upon." After recalling that some portions of the British dominions were a territory—but without expressing the hope that more of them would be so, Sir Auckland Geddes thanked the United States "for having called this conference at this time." There, on a casual, general, governmental departments, he home of the ministry of health and the board of trade, he asked me to send them the most complete reports upon it, on every act of the meeting. Sir Geddes said, he sat down amid a round of applause. The ovation business was repeated a little later when the president of William Jennings Bryan, who received a five-minute demonstration, accompanied by much waving of the chautauqua salute. He responded briefly, saying, in effect, that he was saving up his thunder for a scheduled address on Friday. On that day he is down for an evening to himself, and said he would devote it to "an indictment against alcoholism." He had nothing further to impart as to the position of his heart.

lately reported to have been in the grave, beyond saying that there had been two causes on it for many years—world peace and prohibition. He roused the delegates to a pitch of frenzy when he exclaimed, with Bryan-like dramatics: "God never made a human being who needed alcohol to stimulate his brain or feed his body. We are here to devise ways and means to rid the world of this scourge." His former cabinet mate, Secretary of the Navy Daniels, foresaw in the provisions of the league of nations covenant a pledge that liquor would be kept out of mandate territories, and that the promise of deliverance to peoples in the stage where tutelage is needed and acceptable. Ripple of Amusement. Dr. Ragnar Folk, one of the Norwegian delegates, caused a titter of amusement in the sober gathering when he claimed kinship with American prohibitionists by pointing out an excuse for soliciting drinks containing more than 12 per cent of alcohol. Another laugh came when A. H. Cook, representing the South African Temperance union, staidly remarked that his people were quite convinced that Americans kept tame snakes at home in order to have an excuse for drinking whiskey as a remedy for snake-bite, and that there were opium dens on every corner in pictures of the nation. "I have come here," he said, "to find out the truth." In this city the most impressive scene was at Porta Pia, through which gate the Italian troops entered Rome after a short bombardment on September 20, 1870. There, 10,000 people of every class assembled and sang patriotic songs, cheered the king and the army and waved flags, among which were many belonging to cities redeemed by the great war. The ceremonies were official in nature and were followed by a great procession headed by bands and made brilliant by the national emblem and banners of associations and municipalities. Throngs massed along the route, frantically cheered as the parade went by.

ALL ITALY CELEBRATES REDEMPTION OF ROME

Rome, September 21.—All Italy joined in the celebration of the fifty-first anniversary of the proclamation of Rome as the capital of the united Italy. The exercises, for the most part, took the form of gay processions during the afternoon and evening.

A Governmental Distinction

At frequent intervals since the war ended, considerable publicity has been given to the government standardization of motor trucks.

We take this opportunity to point out a salient fact in this connection. Of all motor vehicles classified as standard, four types—2, 3, 4 and 5—are designated as the motor truck class. In the first three of these types, namely, 2, 3 and 4, several different makes of motor trucks are listed as standard government equipment in each case.

But in type 5 (Five tons and over, including special engineer trucks) the Mack is the only truck named as standard. In other words, the "Bull Dog" is the one and only truck permanently retained by the U. S. Army as standard heavy-service equipment.

The Liberty truck, which was used in the war, was solely the product of a concentrated effort toward quantity production to meet a great emergency.

These facts are more or less common knowledge today. It is not generally known, however, that shortly after the United States declared war noted government engineers conducted exhaustive motor tests which the Mack engine alone survived. The U. S. Engineers requisitioned such quantities of Mack heavy-duty chassis that our production of all light models—1½ and 2 tons—had to be suspended during the war term.

Our greatest military men state that there is no real difference between military and commercial motor transportation. In both classes of service, the best equipment is necessary to record the greatest possible ton-mileage within a given time.

THEATERS MOVIES

Atlanta—All week (matinees Wednesday and Saturday). Thomas Dixon's new drama of the south, "Robert E. Lee."
Lyric (R. F. Keith Vandeville)—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Phyllis Gilmore and company in their new musical sketch by Roy Bryant, "Oklahoma Four in western frolics, a picture of Miles From Nowhere." Three O'Gorman Girls (Kathryn, Billie and Margaret), in "A Musical Melange." Sidney Byron and Betty Price in a musical comedy satire, "A Model Union." Wilton in "The Pool There Is." Topics of the Day: Pathe Review; Pathe News.
Loew's Grand—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Eddie Carr and company in their new musical sketch, "The Office Boy." Bell and Eva in "At the Soda Fountain." Berry and Nickerson, in "The Night Girl in Town." blackface musical knock-out; Bernice Barlow and Banks and day in a fantasy of "The Magic Man and His Magical Males." Double feature picture, "The Tokio Siren," in her newest success, "The Tokio Siren," and Charlie Chaplin in "The Adventurer."
Charles Ray.
(At the Criterion).
It is pleasant to see Charles Ray as something other than a country bumpkin, and in "45 Minutes From Broadway," in which he is appearing at the Criterion Theater this week, he gets away from his old role as the Kid Thru in the picture of George M. Cohan's old musical comedy success. He goes in for comedy and shows a natural superior to what he has ever done before. On the stage Victor Moore played the title role and Charles Ray has taken the same for his acting is faultless. The picture is a masterpiece of its kind and looks the picture through and through. An excellent program by the Criterion orchestra adds to the pleasure of the entertainment.
'The Woman and the Puppet'
(Coming to the Forsyth).
"The Woman and the Puppet," Geraldine Farrar's latest screen success, is coming to the Forsyth Thursday for a three days' run. The play is one of the most colorful shown in many months. The plot is laid in Spain and centers around Concha, a beautiful and willful Spanish village girl. During the action of the play, Miss Farrar introduces her famous passion dance.
William Desmond.
(At the Strand).
William Desmond, one of the handsomest men in pictures, is being starred this week at the Strand in his latest western comedy drama, "A Broadway Cowboy." This is one of the best pictures ever made and has never appeared in on a local screen. As an added attraction, the management is offering Best Men in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." If you want a hundred good hearty laughs, see this. It's worth while.

Popular Thomas Weighan.
(At the Rialto).
Thomas Weighan, one of the thousands of Atlanta film fans, continues to pack the Rialto to the doors with his latest picture, "Civillian Clothes," a picture that begins overseas, and ends in America, in this photograph Mr. Weighan appears in the role of a butler. Those who remember him in "Male and Female" will doubtless be glad of an opportunity to see the handsome star in literary again.
Unusual Comedy-Drama.
(At the Forsyth).
Bebe Daniels and Robert Warwick are registering a distinct hit at the Forsyth the first half of the week with "The Fourteenth Man," a wonderfully clever comedy drama, in which Bebe and Robert do some of the most amusing stunts seen on the screen in weeks. One particularly interesting bit of realism in the picture is a scene of a fight between Warwick and Kiki McCook, a well-known champion.
CARPENTER IS ELECTED BY WILDCAT DIVISION
Columbia, S. C., September 21.—The selection of Charlotte, N. C., as the next meeting place and the election of Clarence E. Carpenter, of Kinston Mountain, N. C., as president, the veterans of the Eighty-first (Wildcat) Division today closed their first annual reunion here. In addition to the election of Sergeant Major Carpenter as president, the association selected executive committees as follows: E. D. Gilmore, Greenville, S. C.; L. G. Radcliffe, Charlotte, N. C.; Frank Foster, Charleston, S. C.; and R. D. Phillips, Laurinburg, N. C. The fifth member will be named by the president.

WIFE EXPLAINS HER ATTITUDE ABOUT STRIKE

BY PERCY SARR.

United News Staff Correspondent.
London, September 21.—I have never encouraged my husband to continue his hunger strike, nor to sacrifice himself for the cause. On the other hand, I have never discouraged him," said Lady MacSwiney, wife of the noted Cork hunger striker, in an interview Tuesday.

"I was first attracted to him," she continued, "largely because of his high ideals."

Then, to the United News correspondent she unfolded the story of her first and only "love affair," which is not yet over. It had been expected to find a downcast, tragedy-stricken woman. Instead I found a cheerful personality, almost girlish in expression, without a single trace of the tragic lurking in her expressive eyes. She made a charming picture, far different from the preconceived idea I had of the wife of a hunger striker.

To me she explained that she had in spite of her family's indifference to the cause, nursed ever since childhood a deep feeling for Sinn Féin. And at times the family difference had amounted to open opposition.

"I knew Terence," she said, "for some years in Ireland. I met him again while I was staying with friends in London. He had then been deported from Ireland and was permitted to move only in restricted areas."

From a basis of common ideals, she explained, she and Terence had built up a firm friendship which gradually grew into love.

Of the lord mayor's present condition, Lady MacSwiney told how he is suffering from pains which principally attack his head and arms. "He often inquires for Marie, our two-year-old daughter," she said. "I asked him if he would like to see her, thinking perhaps he would rejoice at the opportunity. But he didn't wish the baby to have any bad memories to darken her future years."

The lady mayors explained that he had not yet seen the baby in a month. In accordance with Terence's idea, human emotions in profound despair speak only Irish, with one or two words of English she has picked up.

And all through this interview Lady MacSwiney gave the impression of a woman who has sunk into despair.

FEDERALLY PLANNED OF ALL WAR VETERANS

BY PERCY SARR.

Indianapolis, September 21.—With the eighty-eighth annual divisional and brigade reunions and the camp fire, the big social meeting of the members of the Grand Army of the Republic and affiliated organizations tonight were turned toward the annual parade of the dwindling ranks of the civil war veterans.

There was no business session of the Grand Army of the Republic today, although various affiliated organizations held their first sessions of the annual convention.

The committees of the G. A. R., Spanish War veterans and the American Legion, considering plans for federating the three organizations, met and adopted tentative plans for the annual convention of the various veterans' bodies. The federation plans, as outlined at the meeting, are for the purpose of promoting patriotism and loyalty, to oppose radicalism and to encourage the youth to the sacrifices of the veterans of the three wars.

The National Association of Union ex-Prisoners of War today elected Daniel E. Wilder, of Columbus, Ohio, national commander.

ALLEGED ATLANTA "RIPPER" IS NOW BEHIND THE BARS

BY PERCY SARR.

Claud Alexander, negro, who lives at the corner of Garibaldi and Mary streets, and who was arrested Tuesday by City Detectives Jones and Whaley in connection with the murder of Charlie Worham, negro, of 29 Lowe's alley, some time Saturday night, is believed by officers to be "Jack the Ripper," who has operated so extensively in the dark town settlement of this city and other towns, terrifying the dwindling populace by numerous murders of both men and women.

There was no business session of the Grand Army of the Republic today, although various affiliated organizations held their first sessions of the annual convention.

A Revelation to Atlanta Women

Seasoned housekeepers and young matrons were given a new insight into the possibility of better cooking by Mrs. Ada I. Dusher in the first of her demonstrations at our store, Monday and Tuesday afternoons.

To see food cooked perfectly and thoroughly without waste, and by the retained heat in the oven of the Favorite Fireless Gas Range after the gas was turned off was indeed a pleasant revelation. A roast that is cooked in the oven of the Favorite Fireless does not lose in weight by evaporation—it is tenderer and better flavored.

You save your time, you save your gas and you save your food. No wonder the ladies present were deeply interested.

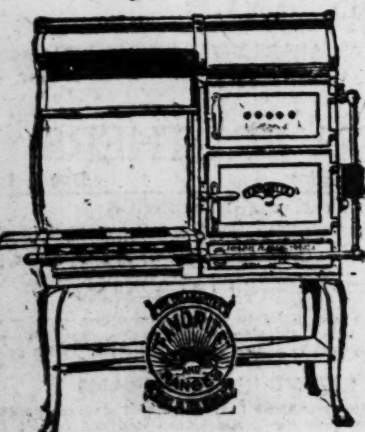

FREE COOKING DEMONSTRATIONS AND LECTURES BY MRS. DUSHER EVERY AFTERNOON THIS WEEK AT 2:30 O'CLOCK.

Favorite Fireless Gas Ranges come in different sizes and styles to meet every individual requirement. Nothing has been spared that would add to their efficiency, their beauty or their desirability. No matter what the size or style, the workmanship and finish are the best possible. The Favorite Fireless is not complicated. A child can operate it and you can use it whenever you desire, as an ordinary gas range. There are no parts to change—nothing to get out of order.

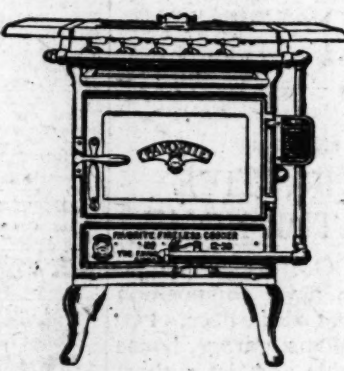

Except for a few minutes, while the food cooks, the gas is turned off. You save about 7-10 of the gas. It's a positive fact that this range will pay for itself in less than a year. Count the savings of time, food and gas and you will easily see that it's cheaper to own a new "Favorite Fireless" than it is to be without it. After the range has paid for itself it will then keep saving for years. You cook in your own way no new-fangled recipes or unusual methods are required. Just prepare each dish as you always do and put it in the oven as you would in your old range. It can't burn. It won't be under-cooked if you allow it sufficient time in the oven. You won't have to stand over it and watch it.

An Automatic Chef that cooks your dinner perfectly—with the gas turned off—while you are away

Here are two different styles of Favorite Fireless Gas Ranges. The one on the left has a broiler, warming oven and canopy top. The one on the left is for small kitchens, where you want to get the best possible range in the least possible space. These ranges are not an expense—they pay for themselves in the food and fuel they save.

STORAGE GARAGE
The centrally located day and night storage garage has done more than most any other one thing to relieve the traffic congestion in other cities. You have noticed the few vacant lots near the center of the city all of automobiles parked there during the day only at a cost ranging from $5.00 to $7.50 per month. The ideal arrangement and one that is most successful financially and otherwise in other large cities is the large, roomy, fireproof multi-storied garage building. The principal prerequisite for such a building is a large centrally located lot. We offer for sale just such a property located on Walton street, just a few minutes' walk from the center of the office building district. It contains nearly 20,000 square feet and at the present time has a brick wall around three sides of it. We offer this at $75,000.

An Unusual Opportunity to Own a Home

Nice bungalow, six rooms and sleeping porch. Three miles from center of city, short distance from car line on Glenwood avenue road, with fifteen acres of land in high state of cultivation; fine young apple orchard and other fruit, and a four-room house, chicken runs, barn, etc., all under fence. The improvements of this place would cost nearly as much as the price asked.

This is your chance to own a home that will enhance rapidly, and, by proper management, pay for itself. Price, $10,500. Terms if you want them.
